Foreword

The vital records in this publication are drawn from the following sources:

- Plymouth Colony Records
- Seven volumes of Town Clerks' records held at the Sandwich Town Hall
- Surviving volumes of First Parish Church, Quaker records and certain later church records
- Inventories of burial markers in Sandwich and Sagamore
- Obituaries in early Sandwich newspapers
- Local diaries and Bible entries

We regret the lack of inventories of other burial markers in the Bourne villages, and the incompleteness of church records. Our data extends through the end of 1884, the year in which the town of Bourne was established from the western parts of original Sandwich. This publication therefore gives Bourne a nearly complete set of vital records up to the date when it commenced its own.

Records of the Colony of New Plymouth in New England*, edited by Nathaniel B. Shurtleff and David Pulsifer, 12 volumes (Boston, 1855-1861), commonly referred to as Plymouth Colony Records. Volumes 1-6 containing Court Orders list four marriages performed in Sandwich by the Colony Governor or one of the Assistants. Volume 8 (Miscellaneous Records) contains certain Sandwich vital records for 1647-1651 and 1675-1676. When Town Clerks were first appointed about 1646, they were expected to report vital records to Plymouth Court, but much of this body of information, if ever sent, was lost by the time the Colony Records were transcribed and published in the 1850s.

Sandwich Book 1*, "General Records 1651-1691, Births, Marriages and Deaths, Town of Sandwich." This volume is the earliest of Sandwich's own records. It has 256 surviving pages and includes vital records on 41 pages among entries of town meetings, earmarks, deeds, and agreements. The pages were not originally numbered and the town meeting notes are not chronological, so that the original page order cannot be ascertained. A few pages are undoubtedly missing, since the vital records pages are topped by a large capital letter, of which C and N were not present when the pages available in 1901 were treated by the Emery Process and bound. The vital records in this book had been copied by Town Clerk Harrison G. O. Ellis into another of the early books of Town Vital Records, namely pages 496 through 508 of Book 3 below. Mr. Ellis was not familiar with the usage to 1752 of the double-date period, January 1 - March 24, or with the numbered months beginning with March; he made mistakes in reading names, as well, and omitted records he could not read at all.

The page numbers used in our present text for Book 1 were added in pencil by the compilers from the order as of 1901. Town meeting minutes survive from a meeting in January 1650/1. Births of children before this date, found in the book, were doubtless contributed by the families. The Ellis copy of Book 1, vital records, contains four Skiff family births which are not in the rebound volume, but otherwise there seems to have been no loss of pages in Book 1 between 1869 and 1901.

Sandwich Book 2, "Births, Marriages and Deaths, Earmarks, Town of Sandwich." Its contents are Births 1679-1815, Deaths 1695-1807, Marriages 1694-1812 and Intentions 1752-1753. Like Book 1, this volume was badly worn with loose and missing pages when it was copied by scribe Thomas G. Newcomb (not a Town Clerk) in 1893; the pages were then treated by the Emery Process in 1901 and bound. Mr. Newcomb made the same kinds of mistakes in names and dates as Ellis. Unlike Book 1, however, this volume had numbered pages and also an index in a small separate volume, which has survived intact. The use of this index has enabled us to reconstruct the nature of what was on each of the original 252 pages of Book 2. A total of eight sheets, with sixteen written sides, were missing when this volume was rebound in 1901. However, the contents of pages 1-2 and 5-6 were found to comprise a block of data at the end of the Ellis copy (pages 508-510 of Book 3), where it had been appended as though part of Book 1. The contents of pages 1-2 contained deaths 1697-1733, and of pages 5-6, births in the families of Samuel Prince, Mathias Ellis, Thomas Smith and Elisha Bourne. The two original sheets were clearly badly damaged, with top and page numbers and edges missing in 1869: page 1-2 is among those lost, but page 5-6 was correctly identified and bound into Book 2 in 1901. Hence, the Ellis copy is the sole source for the data on page 1-2 of Book 2. We have been at pains to reconstruct the incomplete data on these pages from other sources because of gratuitous errors made in the Ellis copy. For example, Mr. Ellis reported the death of Rev. Rowland Cotton as "1700", where he should have written "17_ (worn)". The actual date was 1718, as shown in the diary of Samuel Sewall.

The Index to Book 2 does not record names of the deceased or of those married, only the fact that deaths are found on pages 1, 2, 3, 7, etc., and marriages on pages 11, 16, 23, etc. The index does reports the name of the father and the year of birth of the first child, valuable information when the original page is lost.
The Newcomb copy of Book 2 does not include any data not now present in Book 2, so that the Newcomb copy is not a source for any part of this publication. However, since it is more easily readable, it has been used by others and its mistakes were widely copied in the past.

Sandwich Book 3 "Births 1803-1842, Deaths 1803-1842, Intentions of Marriage and Marriages 1813-1827." This book contains 495 pages of original records. At the end, on pages 496-510, is the Ellis copy of Book 1, vital records, and of pages 1-2 and 5-6 of Book 2. A separate index of names, in a pocket-size book, was apparently carried about by the Town Clerks, who noted certain births and deaths in the margin of this index. Since not all these notes were transferred to Book 3, the index is itself a source, called Book 3A.

Sandwich Book 4 "Records of Births & Deaths 1836 to 1842. Records of old marriages where one or both of the parties belonged to this town & were married in the different towns in the Commonwealth." Pages 3-153 are births and deaths in family sets. The out-of-town marriages are reported on pages 155-168. A state law, in 1857, asked Town Clerks to report local marriages of persons from others Towns to the Town Clerk of that town, from the beginning of records to 1799. Several nearby towns complied, but the evidence in published vital records and genealogies is that overall compliance left much to be desired.

Sandwich Book 5 "Intentions 1783-1813, Earmarks." The pages were not originally numbered. This book was rebound in 1901 by the Emery Process and now contains 56 pages of intentions and 5 pages of earmarks. There is no title page, and the present first page begins abruptly, without headings. We strongly suspect that an earlier section is missing, possibly dating from 1753, when intentions in Book 2 terminate. The information in this book of intentions is particularly valuable because of the many person whose marriages are not recorded here. Many families and individuals before and after the Revolution moved from Sandwich to Connecticut, Berkshire and Worcester counties, Maine and Nova Scotia.

Sandwich Book 6 "Intentions of Marriage 1838-1886, Marriages 1834-1844." There are 116 pages of intentions, 13 pages of marriages, and the rest of the 360 pages are blank, as new reprinted pages from the Commonwealth were issued in 1843 and came to form Book 7.

Sandwich Book 7 "Births, Marriages, and Deaths 1843-1900." This is an oversize book bound from reprinted pages authorized by the Commonwealth. Each numbered page consists of a two-page spread. Under the births section, pages 1-79 run to 1868 and then a new format of 43 more pages extends to 1900. The new format pages were numbered 1-43, causing confusion with the earlier section. These later pages have been renumbered, 1A, 2A, etc. in this publication. In the marriage section pages 1-21 (to 1856) are in one format, followed by pages 22-104 in another format, followed by pages 41-89 in another. In the deaths section pages 1-40 are in one format. All the data in Book 7 have been supplied for this publication with the sole exception of "Disease or cause of death."

We would note that in these seven books of Sandwich vital records, the identification of non-white members of the community has been erratic, with some failure to identify race as Indian, Black, or Mulatto even when reprinted forms invited this information. We have followed the Town Clerks' entries in this respect. Residents of Herring Pond Reservation and of Mashpee Reservation and District periodically came to Sandwich for employment; their intentions, marriages, and births were recorded here.

We will now summarize the various published sources in which Sandwich vital records have appeared prior to this publication:

The Sandwich Observer, a weekly newspaper published in Sandwich from 1845 through 1851, ran a column of vital records from Book 1 in ten successive issues from July 13 through September 14, 1850. The issues of September 21 and 28 are missing in the set we have used, but if of equal length to the others would have completed the vital record data in Book 1 (as rebound in 1901). Our set of the Observer (1846 through 1850) was preserved by the State Historical Society of Wisconsin. The originals are now at the American Antiquarian Society, Worcester, with microfilm at Sandwich Archives, Graphic Microfilm (Stoughton, Massachusetts) and the Boston Public Library.

Frederick Freeman assembled his History of Cape Cod (volume 1, the Annals of Barnstable County, 1858; volume 2, The Annals of the Thirteen Towns, 1861) during the 1850s, with much detailed genealogy, particularly in volume 2. He did not provide his sources, but must have used Sandwich Vital Records for much of his Sandwich family data, especially in the 17th and 18th century. In particular, Freeman provides more complete information on the John Smith, Rowland Cotton, Thomas Smith, Samuel Prince and other families than is now visible on the damaged pages of Books 1 and 2. We have added as footnotes at various points what seems to be consistent data provided by Freeman.

Plymouth Colony Records. We referred to this 12-volume set above as a key resource. We have consulted the original documents used in Volume 8, Miscellaneous Records, preserved at the Plymouth County Commissioners' office, in order to check published transcriptions such as the Kirby entries. This one volume of Plymouth Colony Records was reprinted by Genealogical Publishing Company of Baltimore in 1976 and includes some of the revisions and comments found by editor George E. Bowman of The Mayflower Descendant.

The Genealogical Advertiser: A Quarterly Magazine of Family History published in four volumes from 1898 through 1901 by Lucy Hall Greenlaw in Cambridge, Massachusetts. This was reprinted in one volume by Genealogical Publishing Co. in 1974. Records in Sandwich Book 1 and early pages of Book 2 are on the following pages:

Vol. 3, No. 2 [June 1900]:33-36
Vol. 3, No. 3 [September 1900]:73-77
Vol. 4, No. 1 [March 1901]:9-14
Vol. 4, no. 4 [December 1901]:99-103

Unfortunately, all were taken from the Ellis and Newcomb copies rather than from the original books, so that they include errors made by these scribes in names and dates.

The Mayflower Descendant, under editor George Ernest Bowman, went back to original sources and carefully transcribed Sandwich vital records as follows:

13 [1911]: 285-288: marriages recorded in Plymouth Colony Court Orders, vols. I-IV
14 [1912]: 106-112: these entries are transcriptions of Sandwich Book 1, and identify some of the errors made by Ellis in his 1869 copies

15 [1913]: 25-28: Sandwich vital records 1647-1648 from Plymouth Colony Records, vol. 8, with corrections.
16 [1914]: 122, 236, 238: Plymouth Colony Records, vol. 8, entries of 1649-1651.
21 [1919]: 39-40: NCR, vol. 8, entries for 1676.
22 [1920]: 92: NCR, vol. 8, entries for 1675.
29 [1931]: 21-33, 68-75: Sandwich Book 2, pages 1-2 and 5-21 with certain corrections to Ellis's mistakes on pages 1, 2, 5, 6
30 [1932]: 58-68, 99-104: Sandwich Book 2, pages 22-40

The Sandwich data in the above volumes 14, 29 and 30 were reproduced and published by Col. Leonard H. Smith, Jr. in Vital Records of Southeastern Massachusetts, Volume 3, Barnstable and Sandwich (Clearwater, Fla., 1982).

Sandwich Town Clerks' File of 3 x 5 Cards. In the 1930s a group paid by WPA (Works Progress Administration), funds prepared 3 x 5 index cards on much of the existing Sandwich Vital Records. These were filed alphabetically on white, pink and blue cards for births, marriages and deaths respectively. These cards at the Town Clerk's office have been a great convenience to the public but unfortunately were drawn from the Ellis and Newcomb copies of Books 1 and 2, so that the cards contain these errors, plus further new errors or omissions of reading. Also the contents of Books 5 and 6 were not put onto cards, and neither were the Plymouth Colony records portions, nor Bowman's work in The Mayflower Descendant, as listed above. Since the formation of the Sandwich Archives in 1977, corrections have been noted on the cards and many revised cards created as specific family studies have been completed. However, there has not been a comprehensive program to create new cards from unused sources, including cemeteries or church records, or to check existing cards against originals, so that the public card files have to be viewed with caution and have been so marked.

Other Records. In July 1972 the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints microfilmed the Sandwich books of Vital Records, and also the Proprietors' Records (Woodlots), and Military and Town Meeting Records. In September 1985 the Holbrook Research Institute of Oxford, Massachusetts photographed the books of Sandwich Vital records and related indices, and published this raw data on microfiche.

Sandwich Themes

Sandwich was the first town on Cape Cod in Plymouth Colony, settled in 1637. Like Taunton, also settled in 1637, its first families came from Massachusetts Bay Colony, then overflowing with new arrivals who were establishing new settlements in Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Long Island and Plymouth Colony. The historical themes associated with Sandwich include the following elements:

17th Century

—Religious liberalism by a majority of families resulting in a 20-year gap without a minister.
—Acceptance of the Quaker faith by 18 families who held weekly services from June 1658, the first such meeting in North America.
—Indian teaching by Richard Bourne and the establishment of the Mashpee Indian Reservation.

18th Century

—Residence here of Brigadier General Timothy Ruggles, who became a leading Tory, and of Brigadier General Nathaniel Freeman, a leading Patriot.

19th Century

- Establishment by Deming Jarves of the Boston and Sandwich Glass Co., which operated 1825 - 1888.
- Establishment of the Keith Car Co., a manufacturer of railroad cars, through the end of World War I.
- Early efforts to build a Cape Cod Canal.
- Rev. Frederick Freeman's pioneering The History of Cape Cod, 2 vols. (Boston, Mass., 1858 - 1862) and Freeman Genealogy ... (Boston, 1875).
- Division of the town in 1884, and creation of the town of Bourne.

20th Century

- Completion of Cape Cod Canal by August Belmont in 1914, and its subsequent modernization under the U.S. Corps of Engineers.
- The formation of national family societies by the Wing, Nye, and Tupper families.
- The conservation message of prolific author Thornton W. Burgess, 1874 - 1965, now honored by the Thornton W. Burgess Society, Inc. in Sandwich.
- The preservation of many historic buildings.
- The establishment of the Sandwich Glass Museum and the Heritage Plantation of Sandwich, with unique collections and national status.
- The formation of the Sandwich Archives and Historical Center in 1977 and publication of a comprehensive town history, Sandwich, A Cape Cod Town (1984, 2nd ed., 1987), by Russell A. Lovell, Jr.
- Publication of the definitive 4-volume set, The Glass Industry in Sandwich (Windham, N.H., 1983 - 1993) by Raymond D. Barlow and Joan E. Kaiser.

We will touch on certain of these themes in the notes below.

Settling Sandwich

The ship Abigail, Richard Hackwell Master, arrived at Boston in October 1635 with passengers Edmund Freeman 34 (probably 45), wife Elizabeth 35, children Alice 17, Edmund 15, Elizabeth 12, and John 8; plus the William Almy family and single men Benjamin Nye, Thomas Tupper, Thomas

Landers and Thomas Greenfield. All these persons are found in the subsequent settlement at Sandwich. A well-to-do passenger, Mr. Dennis Geere, died on arrival at Saugus, and Freeman was a witness to his will, while the four single men just named received small bequests. Freeman came as a person of status, as he presented to the Colony a gift of twenty corselets of armor. Sandwich settlers mentioned in Massachusetts Bay Colony Records include Edward Dillingham, Thomas Dexter, Richard Chadwell, John Carman, William Wood, Henry Feake, and Rev. William Leveridge. Freeman's name is found in Plymouth Colony Records in 1636 (he applied to become a freeman). Other Sandwich settlers found temporarily in Plymouth or Duxbury include Mr. Leveridge, John Vincent, Richard Bourne, George Slawson, Thomas Burgess, Thomas Armitage, James Skiff, Thomas Butler, John Dingley, John Fish, William Harlow, Henry Sanders and Joseph Winsor. Of this group, Vincent, Burgess and Butler were neighbors of William Bassett, Jr. in Duxbury and doubtless influenced Bassett to join the Sandwich settlement later. None of these persons belonged to early Plymouth families except Bassett, who was son of William Bassett, Sr. of the Fortune.

On April 3, 1637 the Plymouth Colony Court allowed:

> It is also agreed by the Court that those tenn men of Saugust, viz Edmond Freeman, Henry Feake, Thomas Dexter, Edward Dillingham, William Wood, John Carman, Richard Chadwell, William Almey, Thomas Tupper & George Knott shall have liberty to view a place to sitt down & have sufficient lands for three score famylies, upon the conditions propounded to them by the Governor and Mr. Winslowe.

The removal of the main body of settlers from Saugus to Sandwich doubtless occurred during 1637. The first appearance of the word "Sandwich" in Plymouth Colony Records occurs January 2, 1637/8 when a suit brought by Michael Turner of Sandwich against John Davis of Weymouth was heard in Plymouth, alleging failure of Davis to deliver goods by ship to Sandwich; the intended shipment obviously had been planned for 1637. Winthrop's History of New England states in a 1637 section:

> Another plantation was begun (and called Sandwich) about fifteen miles beyond Plimouth, towards Cape Cod, by many families, which removed from Sagus otherwise Lynn.

Massachusetts Bay Records for November 20, 1637 read "Saugust is called Lin." Alonzo Lewis in his History of Lynn states for 1637:

> This year a large number of people removed from Lynn, and commenced a new settlement at Sandwich. The grant of the town was made, on the third of April, by the Colony of Plymouth. It is ordered, that these ten men of Saugus, namely, Edmund Freeman, Henry Feake, Thomas Dexter, Edward Dillingham, William Wood, John Carman, Richard Chadwell, William Almy, Thomas Tupper, and George Knott, shall have liberty to view a place to sit down on, and have land sufficient for three score families, upon the conditions propounded to them by the Governor and Mr. Winslow. Thomas Dexter did not remove, but the rest of the above named went, with forty-six other men from Lynn.

In his narrative Lin Her Jewels by Obadiah Oldpath James Newhall states that the William Wood who moved to Sandwich was the author of New England's Prospect, published in England in 1634; in 1635 Wood returned to Saugus on the Hopewell. All that is known of William Wood in Sandwich is that he was the first Town Clerk, and had a wife Jane and daughters Miriam and Mary born in 1648 and 1649 respectively. There is no further reference to him in Sandwich or Plymouth.

There are two further references to the 1637 settlement of Sandwich in Plymouth Colony Records. In 1646 a committee of Sandwich townsmen negotiated with Edmund Freeman to purchase on behalf of the town Freeman's investment in the settlement:

> It is agreed upon and ordered by the Court that when the inhabitants of Sandwich have paid a debt of £17 or £18 owing to the old company, and paid the charge and purchase of their township, ...that then the Committees or Undertakers shall yield up the lands undisposed of to the town, to be given forth and disposed by such persons as the town shall appoint, and that every inhabitant having lands granted him shall pay proportionately to the said payments.

Governor Bradford's resignation of his rights to Sandwich then followed:

> Whereas about ten years past the within named William Bradford Governor and the rest of his partners within written being of the old company have purchased the town of Sandwidge of the Indians and paid to them for the said purchase the value of sixteen pounds nineteen shillings in commodities; now know ye that I the said William Bradford my self and in behalf of my partners for and in consideration of the sum of £16, 19s to me in hand paid by Edmund

> Freeman of Sandwidge; I the said William Bradford have assigned sold and set over all my right and title that either myself or my partners have to the said town of Sandwidge by reason of the said purchase: to have and to hold to him the said Edmund Freeman his heirs and assigns for ever, in witness whereof I Have set to my hand this 24th of Jan 1647/8.

A group of six of the leading townspeople (excluding any of the original ten Proprietors) was promptly organized February 26, 1647/8 with the purpose "to agitate things betwixt the Committees and the town." This group was composed of George Allen, John Vincent, William Newland, Anthony Wright, Robert Bodfish, and Richard Bourne. They agreed with Freeman to satisfy the just demands of the Committees for various expenses in founding the town. (These expenses might include such items as hiring a ship or horses and carts to transport goods to Sandwich, or initial stocks of food and tools.) The town group also agreed to repay Freeman the sum of £17 plus the £16 19s which he had paid Bradford. This transaction was not finally concluded until August 20, 1651, when the same group (less George Allen, who had died) gave Freeman several described parcels of land in exchange for his part of the expense of founding the town, and for the £17 a ten-acre meadow plus £4 cash lent by Freeman, Jr., and another £4 lent by widow Joan Swift. Freeman then gave a formal statement to Bradford that all his rights and titles as a Proprietor had been turned over to the town itself, excepting only the lands he had been granted personally. Among these he specifically referred to Plymouth Neck and the lands in Sandwich given his son John Freeman, lately removed to Eastham, which were to remain in the family, rather than being surrendered on departure as was the usual case. The other remaining members of the "Ten Men" also received land grants in recognition of their early expenses and special rights as original Proprietors.

The settlement of Sandwich in 1637 is also mentioned in 1685 when the Plymouth authorities, seeing the lifting of the Massachusetts Bay Colony Charter by the Crown and foreseeing the end of all the American colonies as such, established three new county centers in Taunton, Plymouth, and Barnstable with courts where probate and property deeds could be registered and civil suits heard. The Colony then wrote formal statements of verification to each existing town in the Colony, describing its foundation and assuring the citizens of the validity of their existing property titles. This document for Sandwich reads in part:

> a certain tract of lands was by William Bradford and his Associates assembled in Court the 3rd of April one thousand six hundred thirty and seven granted unto Mr. Edmund Freeman, Henery Feake, Thomas Dexter and other of their Asociates to erect a plantation or town in this Government and to receive in more inhabitants to them according to order and duly to dispose of said lands to such as were or should be orderly admitted to them into said township which was afterwards called Sanditch.

This statement and the others for the early towns are in a manuscript volume kept by the Plymouth County Commissioners entitled "Evidences of Lands Enrolled." These records and copies of deeds were not included in the 12 volumes of Plymouth Colony Records as transcribed by Nathaniel B. Shurtleff and David Pulsifer, 1855 - 1861. Only the 1685 statements on Sandwich and Mashpee appear in Freeman's History of Cape Cod, whereas similar statements for Yarmouth, Barnstable, Eastham, and Falmouth would seem to be of great interest in the absence of other early records.

The name Sandwich for the new settlement on Cape Cod was taken from Sandwich, Kent, because of strong geographical parallels:

> A shallow harbor with wide marshes.
> A bay running southwest/northeast called in Kent Buzzers Reach or Buzzers Belly, here Buzzards Bay.
> A record of Dutch trade connections; in Kent from weavers and refugees, here from the Aptucxet Trading Post visited by New Amsterdam Secretary Isaac de Rasieres in 1627.
> (This post was destroyed by the hurricane of 1635 and no longer existed at the settlement of Sandwich, although the site was well known.)

None of the original settlers of Sandwich came from Sandwich, Kent. In the absence of any other evidence we suggest the name may have been applied by Mr. John Humphrey, Assistant Governor at Saugus, 1634 - 1641. He seems to have lived in Sandwich, Kent in the 1630 - 1634 period, working on supplies and funds for the Bay Colony project, and is said to have returned to Sandwich, Kent, in 1641.

Problems Arising from the "General Records, 1651 - 1692"

This first book of Sandwich records reflects the work of several different scribes who did not make their entries chronologically and who wrote dates in various ways and shapes of numerals. Some pages are clearly missing, including at least one town meeting in late 1650 and several pages of vital records. Frederick Freeman quoted from these early town meeting records as a unique local resource but made errors in reading. The most notable is probably that of a town meeting held "6:7:1677" (6th of 7 mo. 1677) called by selectmen to repair the old meeting house. The entry appears in two scattered places (one undated but following a town meeting of Aug. 1677) and Freeman read the date as 6 mo. 7, 1644. The early year gave genealogist Maclean W. McLean concern as to the reference to Ezra Perry, Sr. who should not even have been here and could not be called Sr. in 1644. Freeman himself wonders at the building being already called "old," but fails to remember that the first known selectman did not serve until 1667.

The various references to the Dexter Grist Mill are out of order and have caused confusion. Matthew Allen is called the miller at one point when he was the poundkeeper. In 1870 town clerk H.G.O. Ellis copied those Town Meeting Reports, lists of townsmen, etc., into a new record book in a clear flowing hand which ever since has served as the apparently authentic first Town Meeting Record Book. We find that Ellis omitted what were to him unreadable sections. However his text was used as the basis for a popular pamphlet produced by C.W. Swift of Yarmouthport, Mass., in 1912, in the series known as Library of Cape Cod History and Genealogy, where it appears as "No. 104, Sandwich and Bourne Colony and Town Records." This pamphlet quotes certain passages from the Court Orders of Plymouth Colony Records relating to Sandwich, 1637 - 1651 (but not citing volume and page) and then quotes from the Ellis transcript up into the 1680s. The Ellis copy includes what he could read of the old 1640 Meadowland allocation which as we noted earlier had been included as a loose undated sheet in the General Records. Ellis' reading problems include the following errors in the Meadowland list:

Feake appears as Peck
Armitage appears as Montag
Vincent appears as Winsor
Braybrook appears as Crobrock
Ewer appears as Hue
Harlow appears as Barley
Almy appears as Allman

We note that the Genealogical Publishing Company has issued Cape Cod Library of Local History and Genealogy, a Facsimile Edition of 108 Pamphlets Published in the Early 20th Century, compiled and indexed by Col. Leonard H. Smith, Jr., C. G. This whole pamphlet series is extremely varied in the scholarly value and authenticity of its contents, and includes of course the defective text of "Sandwich and Bourne Colony and Town Records."

Early Sandwich Families

Here is a list of 117 individuals (mostly heads of families and all but one male) found in Sandwich in the 17th century, many from the first days of settlement. After each name is a series of letters which designate standard sources in which the Sandwich resident appears. The letters are A, B, C, D, E, and F.

Sources represented by each letter are named in the key which precedes this list. After the series of letters are additional notes and sources for that family.

Key to Standard Sources for Sandwich Residents

A. Listed as one of the ten original proprietors or sponsors of the settlement of Sandwich.

B. Noted as also residing in Duxbury in 1636 or later. (Winsor; PCR).

C. Appears on the 1640 list for Reallocation of Meadowlands in Sandwich. (PCR, 1:149-150; Freeman, 1:163-165; Sandwich Town Meetings [TM1], p.1).

D. Noted as also residing in Plymouth. (PCR).

E. Appears on 1643 list of men "Able to Bear Arms". These are men aged 16-60. Several of the settlers were then 60+. Among them were George Allen, Ralph Allen, Thomas Tupper, and Richard Wade. (PCR, 8:192-193; Freeman, 2:44).

F. A surname of significant duration at Sandwich, later often widely dispersed throughout the nation. These families generally have a published genealogy.

The Defiant Quaker Supporters in Sandwich, 1657 - 1660

There were 18 families in Sandwich repeatedly fined by the Court for attending Quaker meetings, hosting a meeting, housing foreign Quakers, resisting the Marshall or refusing to take the Oath of Fidelity. Quaker writers claim that Sandwich had the first regular weekly meetings in North America, based on the schedule of fines for meetings from June 1658, the date of the second visit of Christopher Holder and John Copeland. William Newland and Peter Gaunt had taken the Oath of Fidelity years earlier in military service, and being free of these fines, elected to house the successive English visiting preachers. Fines on Sandwich residents alone reached an amazing total, over £1000 in a 31-month period. Some of this amount was met by distraint of property, some by loans from non-Quakers and some probably was finally cancelled by Plymouth as uncollectible (since the marshall, Barlow himself, had both set the fine and the value of property distrained).

Daniel Butler was the only Sandwich Quaker supporter to be whipped here, for attacking the marshall to free a Quaker visitor. A group of active supporters on Cape Cod went to Boston and were sentenced to jail, fines or whippings, in order to show support for jailed Quakers there. These Cape Cod Quakers included William Allen, Robert Harper and Richard Kerby, Jr. from Sandwich, and Nicholas Davis from Barnstable. Leading Scituate citizens James Cudworth and Timothy Hatherly were disenfranchised for years for showing interest in the new religion and opposing persecution. William Newland and Ralph Allen Senior of Sandwich and Arthur Howland of Marshfield were jailed for contempt of Court for several months. The English Quaker, John Rouse, writing to England from a Boston jail, said "We have two strong places in this land, the one at Newport and the other at Sandwich."

The 18 early families in Sandwich who became Quakers and suffered greatly are as follows:

Ralph Allen, Sr. — Brother of George Allen, Sr.; died in Sandwich about 1660; his son John of Newport was also fined here.

William Allen. —Son of George Senior (died 1648); host of English visitors and their preaching meetings; with wife Priscilla (Browne) the leading spirits in the cause.

Ralph Allen, Jr. — Son of George Allen, Sr.; his sons Benjamin and Joseph also fined here.

Matthew Allen — Son of George Allen, Sr.; his children settled in New Jersey.

Thomas Butler — Often fined, as were his sons Daniel and Obadiah.

Thomas Ewer, Jr. — Fined here, later removed to Barnstable.

Peter Gaunt — Fined here, as were his children Israel and Lydia.

William Gifford — A leading supporter; his second wife Mary Mills had endured "cart and whip" in Boston in 1677 before coming to Sandwich (the Margaret Brewster incident in Old South Church described by Samuel Sewall).

Thomas Greenfield — Unmarried, fined for meetings; escorted Mary Dyer from Newport to Sandwich.

Robert Harper — Whipped in Boston; his house and lot seized here to pay fines.

John Jenkins — Often fined over meetings and his refusal to take the Oath of Fidelity.

Thomas Johnson — The lame weaver mentioned by Cudworth in his famous letter to England about Quaker sufferings in Plymouth Colony; his house and lot were seized and he resettled in Falmouth.

Richard Kerby, Sr. — Fined, as were his children Richard Jr., Sarah and Jane; Sarah was whipped for insolence even before the Quaker period.

John Newland — Brother of William; lame and childless; fined with his wife.

William Newland — Leading host of foreign Quakers; married to Rose (Allen) Holway, daughter of George Allen, Sr. and widow of Joseph Holway; his Holway stepdaughters attacked Marshall George Barlow.

Edward Perry — The most educated and diplomatic convert; in 1672 became Clerk of the Monthly and Quarterly Meetings here; an author of Quaker literature.

Michael Turner — Fined for meetings.

Daniel Wing, Sr. — Brother of Stephen of Spring Hill and John of Yarmouth, both of whom later became Quakers.

New Historical Discoveries in Sandwich, A Cape Cod Town

1. The Sandwich townspeople revolt against the ten founders of the town over unfair allocations of marshlands and enforce a new distribution.
2. The "incorporation" of towns in Plymouth Colony (noted by Frederick Freeman and since widely accepted as fact) was actually a myth. The charter or patent for Plymouth Colony does not refer to incorporation of towns, and no references to incorporation are found in Plymouth Colony Records. The early towns in Massachusetts Bay Colony were, however, immediately incorporated and had strong local powers.
3. The disappearance of town founder Edmund Freeman from public life after 1646, due probably to his support of religious toleration and his vigorous role in liquidating the Colony debt.
4. A fresh appraisal of the extraordinarily talented Richard Bourne as town leader, missionary, negotiator and founder of the Mashpee Reservation.
5. New light on the Tupper family — Thomas Senior lived in the Town Dock area, not the 1637 house claimed in family stories. The first Tupper missionary to the Indians was Thomas, Jr. who married Martha Mayhew and was a close friend of Rev. John Cotton, Jr. of Martha's Vineyard, then of Plymouth.
6. Unraveling the locations of the Sandwich homes of 1667 from Proprietors' records (some are familiar from long descent, others were completely forgotten). False dates found for many supposedly ancient houses.

7. Rev. Benjamin Fessenden's illegitimate child and his stubborn retention of his First Parish pulpit in spite of Council findings against him. See also Register 149[1995]:381-84.
8. Two visits to Sandwich of groups of the Acadian French, cruelly uprooted from Nova Scotia in 1756 and scattered along the American coast.
9. How Bourne family lands were enlarged in Mashpee in later generations, and how the Indians were legally exploited.
10. How Dr. Nathaniel Freeman of Connecticut was encouraged to return to Sandwich to support the Otis family dynasty and prepare for a public career.
11. The scandal of the tarring and feathering of Tory Nabby Freeman in Barnstable by uncontrolled Patriots, and the unpopularity of Brigadier Generals Nathaniel Freeman and Joseph Otis as Revolutionary leaders in this county.
12. The original of the 40-year diary of Benjamin Percival of South Sandwich located and secured by Sandwich Archives.
13. Bathsheba Ruggles Spooner, born in Sandwich in 1745, the last woman hanged for murder in Massachusetts and the scandalously illegal way she was executed despite being five months pregnant.
14. Sandwich as the most active seaport on Cape Cod in glass factory times, with immense cargoes of sand, coal, lumber, etc.
15. Close estimates of the town population in 1640, 1650, 1700, 1750 and 1790, as divided into the areas that separated in 1884.
16. How the beautiful Freeman Farm was twice established and twice destroyed, an extraordinary Sandwich saga.
17. How large portions of the original area guaranteed to the Mashpee Indians was annexed instead to Sandwich, Falmouth and Barnstable; also the lack of genealogical records of white families living in Indian areas.
18. How the ancient proprietors' 66 acres of Town Neck cow pasture was cunningly stolen from the town of Sandwich by opportunists.

19. How Scusset Harbor on Cape Cod Bay was preserved separate from the Cape Cod Canal to about 1933, but then was lost by an uncontrolled slump of dredged spoil, a drainage problem still unsolved.
20. Why certain early surnames (Ellis, Swift, Gibbs, Barlow, etc.) still survive among Sandwich and Bourne residents while others (Nye, Wing, Bourne, Freeman, etc.) disappeared.

The Creation of Bourne in 1884

There were several cases of strained relations between the people of the western villages of Sandwich and the rest of the town:

1. The objections raised in West Sandwich against Rev. Benjamin Fessenden, on grounds of unfitness to serve, were ignored by his First Parish supporters, who kept him in office in spite of councils urging his dismissal.
2. The Pocasset sector succeeded in forming a Second Parish in 1770 in spite of disparaging First Parish objections.
3. A new town was proposed in 1797 by former Loyalist Seth Perry, to be composed of Sandwich's western villages (plus adjacent sectors of South Plymouth and Falmouth) and called "Windsor" after the Canadian town settled by American Loyalists. This proposal was "quashed."
4. Persons in Manomet and Pocasset sectors petitioned repeatedly for the town to build a bridge over the Manomet River in the region of the present Bourne Bridge. Such a bridge would have saved all travelers a long journey through the North Sandwich (Bournedale) corridor, but despite its obvious value, these petitions were voted down on grounds of cost. The local people finally built the bridge at their own expense.
5. Efforts in 1860 and 1873 to form a new town on the west side were opposed and dropped.

The key change leading to the final success of the western villages in establishing a separate township was the extension of the railroad from Buzzards Bay to Woods Hole in 1872, with ferry connections to the islands. In retrospect it is not easy to see why the great advantages of the rail extension to Hyannis in 1854, with a Nantucket connection, did not lead more promptly to the construction of the similar Woods Hole branch. Instead the main Cape line continued in segments to Orleans, then Wellfleet and finally Provincetown, with little tourist interest or economic impact. By contrast, when the line went down along Buzzards Bay to Woods Hole in 1872, there was a virtual explosion of interest by the well-to-do in Boston and New York in coming to the warm water along the Bay, Vineyard Sound and Martha's Vineyard. Large summer homes were built on empty sites with water views, and the new construction brought a dramatic rise in property values. The old settled population was then in decline, but awoke to the fact that spending patterns of the town on roads, schools, and the poor greatly shortchanged the western villages, which now produced more than half the town's taxes. Clearly with good leadership there was a solid case for a new town. The distance to the old Town Hall had always been a problem for the remote areas like Pocasset, whereas the proposed new town center would be in the Buzzards Bay area. The only western village evenly split on whether to support the division was West Sandwich, where residents would indeed have to travel further to a new town center. However, the two richest men in the whole western area, Benjamin Abbe and Isaac N. Keith, both lived in West Sandwich and supported division.

The petition was well contested at the state hearings but the decision was foregone and the new town of Bourne came into existence April 2, 1884 without animosity. The town was named for Jonathan Bourne, a rich whaler from New Bedford who had shown much affection for Sandwich (he provided a new four-faced clock for the Unitarian Church and a turkey dinner for the Almshouse every Thanksgiving). Under the 1884 agreement, Sandwich was to provide a list of qualified voters on the Bourne side; Sandwich residents were to retain rights to shellfish and herring output in Bourne, and Bourne residents and officials were to enjoy full access to vital statistics and town meeting records at the old Town Hall. Some claimed that Bourne should be given actual copies of vital and other town records, but such a gift would have required a vast amount of copying by hand and it was never begun.

Conclusion

We are pleased that, after more than a century, the publication of these vital records of Sandwich and Bourne fulfills one of the commitments made at the division of the town in 1884. This data will now be available both in Bourne and to descendants of residents of both towns all over the country. The support of the New England Historic Genealogical Society in this publication is deeply appreciated. Mark Choquet diligently indexed the work; Gary Boyd Roberts edited the introduction and saw the project through typesetting and all but the final stages of publication; and Jane Fletcher Fiske edited the index and saw the volumes to press. We also acknowledge with gratitude the assistance of Mrs. Barbara L. Gill, the present Archivist-Historian of Sandwich.

*George E. Bowman, MD 15:25, states that this name is undoubtedly Rebecca Freeman. As discussed by Maclean W. McLean in TAG 40:103–10, Rebecca Prence, daughter of Governor Thomas Prence, married Edmund[2] Freeman on April 22, 1646 and had two daughters, Patience and Rebecca, whose birth records did not survive. The death of the wife Rebecca was placed at about 1650, as Edmund married again on July 18, 1651 (SVR, Bk 1, orig. p. 171). We submit that the tentative year and name suggested by Bowman are consistent with the birth of two children, Patience in early 1646/7 and Rebecca before March 23, 1647/8, when the mother was buried.

*"Allen" was first written, but it was crossed out in the same ink, and the entry completed as printed.

†Perhaps she married Benjamin Hammond. F. S. Hammond, History & Genealogies of the Hammond Families in America, vol. 1 (1902), pp. 565–67, claims a marriage to Mary Vincent in 1650, but lists no children until 1655.

‡To clarify the reading of these Kerbey entries, we inspected the original manuscript of Volume 17: "Judicial Acts, Treasurer's Accounts, and Births, Deaths, and Marriages", at the Plymouth County Commissioner's Office. At the time of publication of PCR, 8:9 (1857), the name of the first twin was read as Encrease and the date of birth as February (1649/50). When Bowman read this manuscript for MD 16:122, part of the name and the entire date was missing. The lines "Jane Kerbey mother and Richard Kerbey sonn buried March the 23d" and "Encrease Kerbey buried March the 24th" are not written evenly on the line. We suggest that the information sent from Sandwich to the Plymouth Clerk was garbled and should read: Jane Kerbey[,] mother[,] buried March the 23d[.] Encrease Kerbey[,] Richard Kerby ['s] sonn[,] buried March the 24th. There was no death of a Richard Kerbey at this time. Richard Jr. was born about 1640 and is mentioned, together with his father Richard, as being fined in the Quaker persecution period, 1657–1660 (Freeman's History of Cape Cod, 1:242). Richard, Jr. married Patience Gifford in 1665 (Sandwich Quaker marriages). So, presumably, the twins who died were Increase and Abigail. After the death of Jane, their mother, the surviving twin Increase is described, at his death, as Richard's son.

Elisabeth Percevell the daugher of Jams Persevell was borne the tenth of September annodomini 1675

*The last figure has been marked over and is now practically illegible. Savage's Genealogical Dictionary, in 1860, and Freeman's History of Cape Cod, in 1862, both give the year as 1659, and it seems unlikely that Rachel was born only eleven months after her sister Margaret, as the date in the Ellis copy, "1653" would have it.

†This entry is not in the same hand as the three preceding entries, and was left unfinished, probably because the clerk noted that the birth of Edmund had already been recorded in the middle of the page. "Oct.5.1658" has been added in a modern hand, apparently by Mr. Ellis, in 1869. A comparison of his "copy" with the original records makes it evident that he intended to complete the original entry from the one above, but made an error in the year.

[In record of Inventory of William Allen, it states he "died the first day of october Anno Domini 1705" (MD 32:26).]
Michael Blackwell Jan 6th [1710 added later in pencil]
[His will was dated 29 Nov. 1709, and probated 29 Jan. 1709/10 (Barnstable County Probate, 3:82-84), so his year of death was 1709/10.]

[John Abbott, an unknown person, married about 1687 Lydia (Wing) Hamilton. He was allotted ten acres of land for his lifetime, in a town meeting in 1709. The land was reallocated in 1714, which places his death in 1714 or very shortly before.]

Widow Faith Fish Augt 7

Edward Perry Feb 16 1690
[Will made 29 December 1694, probated 9 April 1695 (MD 24: 59–60). Hence his death occurred Feb. 16 1694/5.]
Deborah Baxter Wife of Saml Oct 24
[In the absence of a Baxter family in Sandwich, we believe this is a misreading of Barker. Samuel Barker, son of Isaac deceased of Duxbury, m. 22: 9 mo: 1711 Deborah Wing, daughter of John & Mary Wing (Sandwich Quaker Records pp 90–92). Their daughter Deborah was b. 6 Oct. 1712 (SVR 2:57), so the mother's death date should read 24 Oct. 1712.]
Mrs. Ruth Chipman Oct 4th 1710
[Gravestone reads: 1713, 71 years (Old Town Cemetery, Sandwich).]
Thomas Tobey Jan 9 1710

[This is Martha (Mayhew) widow of Thomas Jr.]

Remembrance Jennings wife of Saml June 21, 1718

[worn] Jennings Wife of Isaac Jennings Dec 21st 1720
[This is Rose (Goodspeed), (SVR 2:23).]
[worn] Fish son of Seth Fish & Mary his wife died Feb 2 1720
[This is Ephraim born Dec. 30, 1720, (SVR 2:41). His death date should read 1720/21.]
Hannah Jennings died the last day of March 1721
[There is no eligible Hannah found in the Jennings family. Since the nearby first names are worn, we suggest that this first name was incomplete and guessed by Ellis. She was probably Ruhamah (Turner) Jennings, who had died before 1723 when the settlement of her husband John Jennings' estate was made (Barnstable County Probate, 4:189).]
[worn] Wing Wife of Jashub Wing died Dec 16 1721
[This is Anna (Hoxie) daughter of Ludowick, (SVR 2:23).]
Mary Wing daughter of Jashub Wing died [worn]
[Wing Family publication "OWL", #16 (1915):1509 says this is the same Mary b. 16 June 1716 (SVR 2:28), d. 12 mo 20 1723 (Feb. 20, 1723/4).]
Rev Rowland Cotten died March 18 1700
[He died 18 March 1722 (M. Halsey Thomas, ed., The Diary of Samuel Sewall,[1973], 2:993).]
John Gibbs Died April 30 1725
[His widow's dower share was set off 17 July 1725, and the inventory was sworn to 1 July 1726 (Barnstable County Probate, 4:245, 248).]

James Stuart died Oct 3d 1720
[He made his will 26 December 1723, and it was probated 3 November 1726 (MD 29:22).]

[Gravestone reads: Apr 22 1727 in 67th year (Old Town Cemetery).]
Died Elizabeth Barlow Wife of John Barlow May 16, 1726
Ezra Perry died Jany 31 1729
[His will was dated 21 October 1728 and proved 10 February 1729/30 (Barnstable County Probate, 4:535, 536), so his death date should read 1729/30.]
Thos. Gibbs Sen died Jan 7 1732
[His will was dated 23 June 1725 and the inventory presented 1 February 1732/3, dated 23 January 1732/3 (Barnstable County Probate, 5:24, 84), so his death date should read 1732/3.]
Samuel Wing died Feb 12 1732
[Wing Family publication "OWL", #16 (1915):1504 says this Samuel, son of Daniel Jr. died 2nd mo 12 1732, which is April 12, 1732.]
Samuel Swift Sen died May 25 1730
[His will dated 5 October 1730, presented 6 June 1733 (Barnstable County Probate, 5:137).]

[p. 3]

[According to the index of Book 2, this page contained some death entries and the family of William Bassett beginning 1676. The first two children of this William Bassett were reported on page 158 of Book 1 (Mary in 1676 and Rachel in 1679). History of Cape Cod, 1:334 quoted these two births and then stated "No other record of births appears in this connection, but the following were doubtless children of the same, viz. Jonathan etc.". Hence it is clear that page 3 of Book 2 was already missing in Freeman's time.]

[p. 4]

[According to the index, this page contained the record of births in the following families:

Daniel Wing 1687
John Dillingham 1689
John Allen 1691
Elizabeth Cleaves 1691
Nathan Barlow 1692/3
Ephraim Tobey 1693
Bethiah Gale 1693

As shown for page 3, this verso was missing by the 1850s, and the children of these seven families have to be determined from other genealogical evidence.]

Joel, Matthias, John, Mercy, Experience, Malachi, Remember, Mehitabel, Samuel.]

[In 1869 Ellis (Book 3 p 508) read a top line now missing "Thomas Smith and Abigail his wife had children born." We believe from the Prince family evidence and the following Thomas Smith family details that Freeman in the 1850s read a less damaged page than Ellis did in 1869. Freeman's record of the family births is (History of Cape Cod, 2:83–84):

* These four Skiff births appear in the abbreviated form (omitting the name of the mother Lydia) in Ellis' copy of Book 1 appearing on page 507 of Book 3. Like pages 1 & 2 of Book 2, we hypothesize that the Skiff births had become separated from Book 2 and because of their early dates were included among the Book 1 pages when they were recopied by Ellis in 1869. That the Skiff page was present as part of Book 1 in 1850 is shown by the publication of much of Book 1 serially in the local newspaper Sandwich Observer over some ten issues. The four Skiff births appear in the issue of August 2, 1850. We feel the four Skiff births belong here because of the authentic original Abigail entry. Incidentally, a fourth daughter Lydia was born about 1675 and is not shown here. Also the name "Marcy" by Ellis appears as Mary in the Observer at her marriage.

N.B. My method of recording the Births & Deaths in this book will be, as follows—To take a page for each family, the one half of which will be for Births & the other for Deaths—those who have had a part of their family recorded in the old Book Book 2, will be referred to in this by citing the page in sd.old Book. I thought proper to note the method in this place that my successors in office, if they liked the method might proceed in it, if not, to note some better one.

† In the birth of Nancy the date Friday February 15 1788 would be in agreement with the calendar. After Nabby Matilda do. the words Thursday Aug. 6 1790 were entered and lined out with the Wednesday date above entered next. The Thursday August 6th 1790 date then appears for the next child Stephen suggesting that the Town Clerk confused the entries. However the universal calendar shows that July 6, not 5, fell on Wednesday 1791. Similarly for Stephen August 6 fell on Thursday in 1789 not 1790. The dates and days of these three births may have been confused by the parents. However the later births of Frances and John are in agreement with the calendar.
